

Operation WarDDawgs™ Accessibility Statement

At Operation WarDDawgs™, we are committed to ensuring that our website is accessible to everyone—regardless of ability. We believe giving should be inclusive, and that includes the digital spaces where support and resources are offered.

Our Commitment

We are actively working to improve the accessibility of our website and to ensure it aligns with the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) 2.1, Level AA, and applicable accessibility legislation such as the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA).

We want every visitor to be able to:

- Navigate the site easily with assistive technologies
- Read content with clear contrast and legible fonts
- Use alt-text-supported images and keyboard navigation
- Access links and forms in a logical, intuitive order

Accessibility Features

Some of the features we've implemented or are actively improving:

- Alt text for all images
- Logical heading structure
- Descriptive link text
- Keyboard-friendly navigation
- Ongoing usability testing

Need Assistance?

If you experience any difficulty accessing content, navigating the site, or if any part of the website is not fully accessible to you, please let us know. We welcome your feedback and are happy to assist in any way we can.
